

Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 16 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Some patchy light rain in the west, dry further southeast.

Today:

Early fog slowly clearing then becoming cloudy from the west with the odd spot of light rain and drizzle. Best of any brightness in the south and east during the early afternoon. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:

Mostly cloudy with some patchy light rain at first. However, clear spells will develop, perhaps allowing the odd mist or fog patch to form. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Wednesday:

Starting quite chilly on Wednesday with any mist or fog patches short-lived. Some lengthy bright or sunny spells and most parts will stay dry. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:

Staying largely dry during Thursday and Friday but rather cloudy and breezy at times. Mild for the time of year. Rain arriving in the north late on Saturday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.